

UPDATED GUIDELINES

Now that the legal restrictions have largely been removed it is even more important that chaplains carefully consider how they undertake their chaplaincy. We have updated our guidance, which can be found on our website at Guidance for Chaplains

NEW WORKPLACE CHAPLAINS

The YMCA in Redditch is about to have a workplace chaplain for the first time and new FWW chaplain, Jules Bird, is excited to be taking on this role. Jules is also part of the Redditch Town Centre Team visiting shop workers in the Kingfisher Centre.

In Pershore, the Rev'd Alma Organ, who has been a licensed lay minister and then an associate priest at Pershore Abbey, as well as previously serving as a hospital chaplain for 15 years, has joined the Pershore Workplace Chaplaincy team in the High Street. She is already a familiar face in the town, known by many and this role sees her extend her ministry still further.

COMMISSIONING SERVICE at UPTON-UPON-SEVERN BAPTIST CHURCH

On Sunday 18th July, Dick Johnson joined the morning Service at Upton Baptist Church where Rev'ds Amy Wearing and Richard Barley, who had completed their training early in lockdown, were commissioned as Workplace Chaplains serving the town. The café service, held in the church garden due to Covid precautions, saw the congregation pray for Amy & Richard as they reach out in chaplaincy to their local high street.

TRUSTEE NEWS

We recently welcomed two new trustees to FWW. Robin Gilbert, a member at Droitwich Methodist Church, is our new treasurer. A New Zealander by birth, Robin brings with him a wealth of experience across various industries and takes over from Roy Walford, who has replaced John Hill as secretary to the trustees. John, who has served with distinction as secretary for three years and is a member of Alvechurch Baptist Church, remains on the Board as a trustee nominated by the Heart of England Baptist Association (HEBA) which has also nominated new trustee Stuart Sandys, an elder at Pershore Baptist Church and local team leader for the Pershore Workplace Chaplaincy team.
